Workshop on Micro Teaching

January 25, 2024

On January 25, 2024, the Department of Education at Modern College of Professional Studies organized a one-day micro-teaching workshop for B.Ed. first-year students, led by Prof. Nisha Singh, the Principal of MCPS. The workshop, held from 10:30 AM to 4:30 PM, was divided into two sessions: a morning session and an evening session. The workshop aimed to enhance critical teaching skills essential for effective classroom management. The sessions covered five key areas: Introduction Skill, Explanation Skill, Reinforcement Skill, Probing Question Skill, and Illustration with Example Skill. Each segment focused on equipping students with practical techniques, such as engaging lesson introductions, clear explanations, positive reinforcement, thought-provoking questions, and the use of relevant examples to clarify concepts. The workshop concluded with a feedback session, where students expressed their appreciation for the opportunity to develop these crucial skills in a supportive environment, marking the event as a successful step in their professional development.

Workshop on Introduction to SPSS

03rd February 2024

A one-day workshop on Introduction to SPSS was successfully organized, under the supervision of the Research Committee. Ms. Neha Bansal coordinated the event. The workshop aimed to familiarize participants with the basic functions and features of SPSS (Statistical Package for the Social Sciences) software, provide an understanding of fundamental statistical concepts, and guide them through inferential statistical analyses such as t-tests, ANOVA, correlation, and regression using SPSS. Dr. B.P. Gaur, a Professor at MCPS Ghaziabad, served as the guest speaker. During the workshop, Dr. Gaur emphasized the significance of leveraging SPSS as a powerful tool for data analysis in research endeavors. He highlighted SPSS's capability to streamline complex statistical analyses and underscored its role in enhancing the rigor and reliability of research outcomes. Additionally, Dr. Gaur encouraged participants to explore the diverse functionalities of SPSS to unlock its full potential in empirical investigations.

The event achieved its objectives by empowering the 124 participants to interpret and present statistical analysis results accurately. Attendees benefited from hands-on training and interactive sessions, enhancing their research skills in data analysis.

Guest Lecture

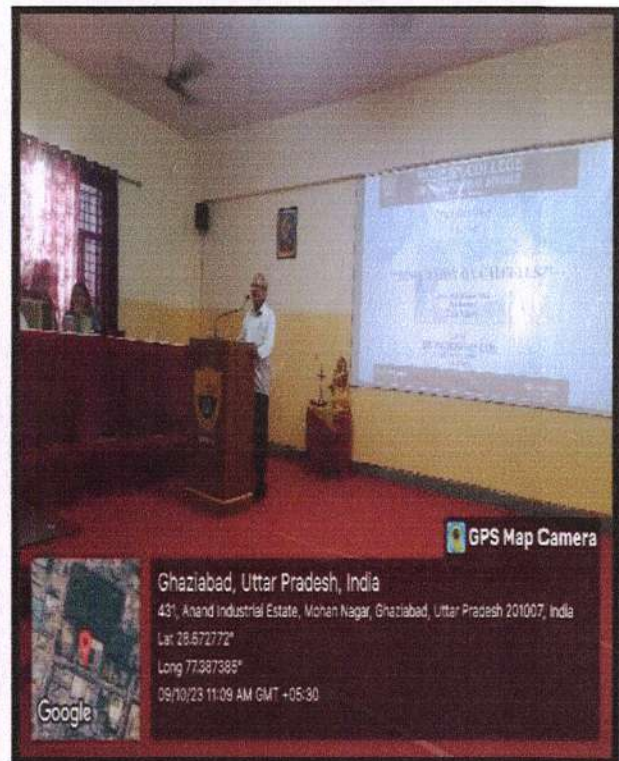

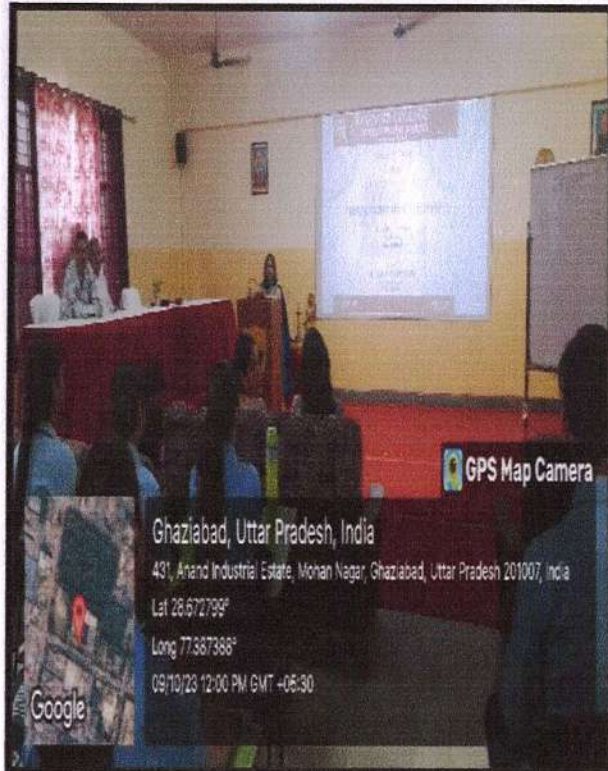

09th August 2023

The Department of Computer Applications, in collaboration with the IT Cell, organized a guest lecture on 'Calculus'. The event aimed to provide students with an insightful and comprehensive overview of calculus, its applications, and its significance in various fields.

Dr. Madhusudan Garg, Ph.D. from IIT Kanpur and a social worker, was the esteemed Chief Guest and speaker for the lecture. The event commenced with a warm welcome from Principal, Prof. (Dr.) Nisha Singh, who emphasized the importance of calculus, making it engaging and informative for both beginners and those with a background in mathematics.

Dr. Madhusudan Garg started his lecture by providing a concise yet thorough introduction to calculus. He explained the concept of differentiation, finding the rate of change of a function, mathematical techniques, and other key topics. Students learned about the historical development of calculus and its fundamental principles, including differentiation and integration.

The participants, guided by Dr. Madhusudan Garg, made the event a memorable and enriching experience. The program ended with a vote of thanks by Ms. Aparna Indu, extending her gratitude to all the participants, speakers, and organizers who contributed to the success of this seminar.

Workshop

9th December 2023

The Department of Education organized an online one day workshop titled 'Action Research: Strategies for Impactful Academic Exploration.' The event featured Dr. Sarita Verma, Associate Professor, School of Education, Sharda University, as the resource person. The sessions commenced with a welcome address by Prof. Nisha Singh, Principal of Modern College of Professional Studies, followed by an introduction of the speaker by Ms. Parul Uniyal.

Led by Dr. Sarita Verma, the event aimed to introduce participants to action research methodologies and their significance in academic settings. The workshop provided practical strategies for conducting action research projects, facilitating knowledge exchange, and inspiring participants to apply action research principles in their professional endeavors. Dr. Verma emphasized that action research serves as a powerful tool for educators to address real-world challenges in their teaching practices.

The event, coordinated by Dr. Reeti Chauhan, fostered increased awareness, enhanced skills, and encouraged continuous improvement and innovation in educational practices among the participants. Utilizing the Google Meet platform, over 90 attendees, including faculty members, researchers, and students, actively engaged in the sessions. The workshop not only enhanced participants' understanding of action research but also motivated them to incorporate these methodologies into their professional practices for impactful academic exploration and improvement.

Workshop on Quantum Computing

25th August 2023

The Department of Computer Applications, in collaboration with the IT cell, organized a workshop on "Quantum Computing" to delve into this emerging field. Ms. Deeksha Singh, an esteemed speaker with extensive quantum computing experience, provided valuable insights into its intricacies and practical applications.

Day 1 commenced with Principal Prof. (Dr.) Nisha Singh's welcome address, emphasizing the workshop's significance for both newcomers and experienced IT professionals. Participants engaged in introductory sessions on quantum computing fundamentals, including quantum bits (qubits), gates, superposition, and entanglement. A major focus was on exploring quantum algorithms, showcasing their potential efficiency over classical counterparts.

Day 2 featured presentations and discussions on current quantum hardware, technologies, challenges, and limitations. Topics included error correction, decoherence, and scalability issues. Ms. Aparna Indu, Head of the Department of Computer Applications, concluded the workshop with a vote of thanks, acknowledging the attendees, speakers, and organizers for their contributions.

Workshop

28th October 2023

The Research and Development Committee hosted an online workshop on 'Inferential Statistics in Research Methodology'. The workshop specifically organized for M.Ed. students, aimed to develop their understanding of research methodologies and the application of inferential statistics. Dr. Bhawna Garg, a Research Methodology Expert, delivered insightful sessions elucidating the significance and application of inferential statistics in research. Attendees gained valuable insights into how inferential statistics can be effectively employed to draw conclusions, make predictions, and generalize findings from sample data to larger populations. This understanding is crucial for enhancing the rigor and validity of research studies conducted across various disciplines. The event was successfully coordinated by Ms. Neha Bansal.

The session contributed to the students' overall academic and research proficiency, preparing them for future research endeavors. This workshop was a valuable addition to the academic development of 55 M.Ed. students, providing them with essential knowledge and skills in research methodology and inferential statistics.

Workshop

15th November 2022

The Department of Commerce, hosted a workshop on "How to Write Quality Research Papers and Publish in Good Journals" by CMA (Dr.) Amit Kumar Arora, Associate Professor Research at KIET School of Management, Ghaziabad. The event aimed to enhance students' research paper writing skills and provide insights into publishing in reputable journals. Dr. Amit addressed that Research can be done on any topic or problem on which one wants to pursue research. Among researchers and academicians, there is always an urgency to publish a research paper. To improve the quality of the research, a researcher should select his/her research topic using F.I.N.E.R. approach. It stands for feasibility, Interest, Novelty, Ethics, Relevance. When a research topic is chosen using this criterion, then only the researcher would bring quality work in his research as one is enjoying his/her research work. The workshop, held in the MCPS Seminar Hall at 2:00 PM, was coordinated by Ms. Anjali Goswami.

Debate Competition

11th March 2024

The Department of Computer Applications in collaboration with the IT Club, hosted a spirited Debate competition centered on the topic "Will AI create more jobs than it displaces?" The event, held in Room No. 109, saw enthusiastic participation on March 11, 2024, at 11:00 AM. Co-convenor Ms. Aparna Indu inaugurated the competition, setting the stage for two teams to present their arguments. Each team, advocating for and against the notion that AI will generate more jobs than it displaces, was given 5 minutes for opening statements, rebuttals, and closing arguments.

The competition, evaluated by a panel of faculty judges, emphasized participants' reasoning, evidence utilization, presentation skills, and ability to counter arguments. The audience's engagement during the Q&A session enriched the discourse.

Vinay Kumar Sain from BCA 2nd Semester clinched the first position, followed by Vaibhav Dubey from BCA 4th Semester securing the second position, and Dhruv Gaur from BCA 2nd Semester securing the third position. The judges provided constructive feedback to all participants, fostering learning and growth. Co-convenor Ms. Aparna Indu extended gratitude to everyone involved for their contributions to a successful event.

Placement cum Internship Drive

14th December 2023

The Department of Management and Commerce in collaboration with the Placement & Career Counseling Committee, organized the BICANO Internship Cum Placement Drive. BICANO, renowned for its dedication to innovation and excellence, sought talented individuals ready to contribute to its dynamic work environment. Their participation in the drive underscored their commitment to identifying and nurturing emerging talents.

Ms. Ritika coordinated the event, extending a warm welcome to the BICANO HR team. This was followed by an insightful presentation from Ms. Anjali Rawat, who provided detailed insights into the company and its various job roles. The interview process began with an initial screening and assessment of communication skills, followed by HR interviews.

A total of 39 candidates registered for the campus recruitment drive, with 12 candidates qualifying after the initial round. From these, 07 candidates progressed after further assessment of their communication skills. However, none of the shortlisted candidates met the final criteria set by BICANO, resulting in no final placements. Despite the outcome, the event was valuable in providing students with real-world interview experience and feedback. The MCPS extends its gratitude to BICANO for their collaboration in organizing this placement drive, highlighting the importance of such initiatives in preparing students for their professional careers.

Placement Drive

12th September 2023

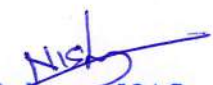

The Placement Drive conducted on September 12, 2023, participation from two prestigious schools: Dream Valley International School, Mohan Nagar, Ghaziabad, and Red Rose Public School, Sahibabad. The Principal, Prof. Nisha Singh, welcomed the representatives of both schools. Prior to the commencement of the drive, final-year B.Ed. students submitted their resumes and academic records for consideration.

The selection process was meticulously organized to ensure fairness and transparency. A total of 28 B.Ed. students enthusiastically participated in the Placement Drive, eager to pursue careers in education. The primary objective of this drive was to bridge aspiring educators with potential employers and facilitate opportunities for securing teaching positions.

Representatives from both schools conducted thorough one-on-one interviews with the candidates, focusing on assessing their communication skills, teaching philosophies, and suitability for the school environment. After careful evaluation, a total of 12 candidates were selected by the participating schools.

Throughout the process, candidates demonstrated commendable enthusiasm and preparation, showcasing their passion for teaching and dedication to their future roles. Crash Course on Research Design, Statistical Analysis and Report Writing

9th-19th Decemb-er, 2023

An online 36-hour crash course on Research Design, Statistical Analysis, and Report Writing was organized by the Department of Education, Ram Chameli Chadha Vishvas Girls College, in collaboration with Modern College of Professional Studies, Ghaziabad, from 9th to 19th December 2023 via Google Meet. The objectives of the activity were to provide deep knowledge about research design, educate students on various aspects of statistical analysis and report writing, and enhance and upgrade students' profiles in line with the requirements of higher education.

The course was coordinated by Ms. Namita Sharma, Assistant Professor at RCCV Girls College, Ghaziabad, and Dr. Safia Mustafa, Assistant Professor at Modern College of Professional Studies, Ghaziabad. Dr. Sangeeta Gupta, Associate Professor at RCCV Girls College, Ghaziabad, served as the resource person. She covered key topics, including measures of central tendency, variability, association, correlation, regression, sampling, testing of null hypotheses, parametric and non-parametric tests, and discussions on important questions.

The outcomes included participants gaining valuable insights into the scope of research in UG and PG programs, enhanced understanding and skills in research design, statistical analysis, and report writing. Positive feedback highlighted the potential benefits of holding future sessions offline to increase participation. Certificates were awarded to participants.

The course successfully met its objectives, providing participants with a comprehensive understanding of research methodologies essential for their academic and professional growth. The event saw enthusiastic participation from 65 students, reflecting the course's effectiveness and the dedication of the organizing team.

NEXT GENERATION INNOVATION
2023-24

Made BY :Preeti Dubey

OVERVIEW FOR TOPIC

Our next generation INNOVATION is going to be invented . This is for the motor bike 🚲🚲🚲

The topic is THE FINGERPRINT MOTORBIKE LOCK . NOW a day there are many inventions has already occurred but our invention changed the thinking of whole world as it referred to the motorbikes

PROCEDURE OF MAKING 🚲

This comprises of highly developed sensor fingerprint ,a battery ,engine and further as we use to make the bike material . The engine must work and control with the fingerprint only. The first is that we have to connect the battery with the key only.... Means that when we switch on the key into bike only work of battery get startedThe next is to connect the work of engine means starting of from the fingerprint which is just display in 5 second when we switch on the key

As when we use fingering to unlock this and put out the key from itThe handle as well as there wheels get locked also respectively ...

OPPORTUNITIES AND FUTURE PERSPECTIVES OF COLLABORATIVE RESEARCHES IN TEACHER EDUCATION

Rakhi Sharma and Kamini Tripathi

M.Ed. Students, Modern College, Ghaziabad

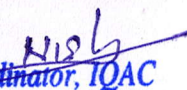

Abstract

Research works as an innovative way to bridge the gap between theory and practice for researchers from other backgrounds in the field of education and aims to promote a vigorous research environment in the field of higher education. In this article has been taken from the collaborative research in the field of education, which will look at various aspects of teacher education, what form of collaborative research will be done in the present and future through research. Through this article, the collaborative nature of the teacher in the research which is the work done between two parties to achieve a certain objective. In this article, an attempt has been made to explain the present form of educational research and what will be its form in the future.

Keywords: Collaborative research, Teacher education, Cooperative teacher education, Scientific research, Historical research, Philosophical research.

INTRODUCTION

Collaborative research is an important part of teacher education, which is considered very important to fulfill the desired objectives through teacher education, it is necessary to give special attention to research work by adopting new activities of teacher education in the country and abroad. There is no definite time frame as to when the concept started in teacher education. In collaborative research, improving the process of education and making new developments in that process is done for the dissemination of knowledge in the process of educational research. The main goal is considered to be the increase in new knowledge through the efforts made to move forward. Today in our country, teacher education cannot be benefited by using the research findings of other countries because the nature of education in every nation and society is different. Teaching is a social process. It is more influenced by social philosophy.

Global Leadership and Management in Education governance system and economic conditions. These factors determine the nature of research in teaching.

In research, there is a need to understand teacher teaching and teaching behaviour through study in the Indian context. In collaborative research, researchers are making efforts towards making the nature of teaching and teacher behaviour and internal process effective in the Indian context. Collaborative research presents the present and future form of teacher education.

The major parameters of educational research can be seen in the following forms:

- Introducing new principles and facts in the field of teacher education and increasing new knowledge can be achieved.
- What is the importance of new knowledge in education so that teachers can improve their practice and become powerful for present and future?
- What is the main problem and area of collaborative research?
- The form of the problem of collaborative research should be such that we can see it clearly and then use it.

In collaborative research, teacher's development and progress has its own definite place. To know the various types of problems happening in the field of education, to understand the problems related to the present, ancient and new approaches like subject matter analysis etc. are used in collaborative research. Emphasis is given to interdisciplinary approach to enhance the quality of education. Emphasis is given to experimental formats.

Need of Collaborative Educational Research for Teachers

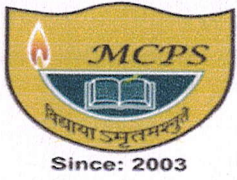

- For the need for improvement and change in education
- To increase new knowledge in teacher education
- For the need of subtle and developmental thoughts rather than general studies in various areas of teacher education
- For the need to develop moral qualities, values and emotional aspects in teachers through educational research
- Teachers can solve fundamental and local problems through collaborative research
- To adopt the format of research in teacher education
- To make the teaching process effective through educational research
- Teachers are able to evaluate the significance and utility of mediums of education
- To adopt the Indian model of teacher education through collaborative research

Opportunities and Future Perspectives of Collaborative Researches... 371

Major objectives of collaborative teacher education research

Theoretical Objective	Factual Objective	Truthful Purpose	Purpose of Utility
Collaborative education: Through education research, new principles are propounded through scientific research work. In this, research work is done according to the explanation, in this all four are clarified and new knowledge is increased which is used in strengthening the process of education.	Under cooperative teacher education, new facts are discovered through historical research work, on the basis of these, it helps in understanding today. The nature of these objectives is descriptive because after discovering facts, they or events are described. Discovery of new facts. Helps in development and improvement of education processes.	Collaborative teacher education is the replacement of new truths through philosophical research work. These are obtained from the answers to the final questions, in which the objective principles of education, teaching methods and curriculum are created. These are analyzed and the experiences are contemplated at the intellectual level. New knowledge, facts and values are established in this.	Collaborative teaching: More importance is given to practical application in education, only utility is given importance in research work.

Major Areas of Collaborative Teacher Education Research

Collaborative Learning Education Research Work

- To improve and develop the process of education, this work is done to expand knowledge.

Enhancing Education: Personalization and Adaptation in Blended Learning

Dr. Nishi Tyagi & Ms. Hemlata Sharma

Introduction

The field of education is currently undergoing a significant transformation, driven by both technological advancements and a deeper understanding of how students learn (Piaget, 1952; Vygotsky, 1978). This transformation is particularly evident in the integration of individualized instruction methodologies and adaptive learning technologies within the context of blended learning. These innovative educational practices are increasingly recognized as crucial for enhancing student performance and engagement in today's hybrid learning environments.

At the core of this educational revolution is the commitment to providing customized learning experiences tailored to the unique requirements, interests, and learning speeds of individual students. Traditional, one-size-fits-all educational approaches have long been acknowledged as inadequate in addressing the diverse needs of learners (Tomlinson, 1999). Blended learning environments take this commitment to customization to the next level by harnessing advanced adaptive technologies that intelligently adapt to each student's interactions with educational materials. This adaptation not only enhances the overall learning experience but also aligns closely with constructivist theories of education.

Constructivist theories, as articulated by scholars like Jean Piaget and Lev Vygotsky, emphasize the active role of learners in constructing their understanding of the world. They posit that learning is a dynamic process in which students build upon their prior knowledge and experiences. Education, within this framework, is not merely the transfer of information but a process of meaningful engagement and knowledge construction. This theoretical foundation resonates with the principles of differentiated instruction, as championed by educators like Carol Ann Tomlinson. Differentiated instruction recognizes the diversity of learners and seeks to tailor instruction to individual needs by accommodating different learning styles, abilities, and interests.
